Pitch of the Project Proposal

Massive IoT over High Density LoRaWan Networks

Iñaki Etxebarria
inaki.etxebarria@fon.com
Future LoRaWAN® networks will be dense due to the simplicity of the solution and the increase of the demand of this solution, besides dense networks provides big benefits like longer battery lifes of the nodes, better geolocalization.

Validation of future massive network deployment and new commercial use cases
Validation of new business models and new use cases under dense LoRaWAN® networks

We believe in massive unlicense network deployments for the development of new innovative solution and opportunities for the industry
Fonlabs is an innovation, R&D company with more than 8 years giving solutions under WiFi, 5G and IoT. We are part of Fon Group (www.fon.com) that managed more than 25 millions Hotspots around the world in a massive deployment.

We are focused in the development of new connectivity solutions to respond the global hyperconnectivity demand.

Proposal

Introduction

- Massive deployment simplified
- New services proposal validation
- Architecture designs
- Network management orchestration
- New business model validations
- Software and Hardware development new opportunities,

- Publication & Thesis & Collaboration
- Proof of Concepts implementations
- New business models
- New hardware
- New software solutions
